Director's Message

August 2022

Dear Chevy friends,

Greetings from Bowling Green, Kentucky! Our region is well-represented at the National Meet. Allen Morris, Art and Dorothy Scully, Gary and Judy Howard, and Sabrina and I are carrying the banner for OCVCCA at the meet.

Sabrina hit a homerun with the Segerstrom Shelby Event Center tour. 28 VCCA members attended the event. The cars, fellowship, and food were all spectacular. Two additional tours are now in the works as well.

Our next meeting is set for Tuesday, August 9th at 7:00 PM at the Church of the Foothills in Santa Ana. I will miss the meeting due to work obligations in Sacramento. Denis will wield the gavel, so look for another great meeting. If you have the time, please plan on joining the Supper Club for dinner at Spires in Tustin at 5:30 PM before the meeting.

Also, the OCVCCA Breakfast Club will next meet Saturday, August 13th at 8:30 am at Country Café located at 2321 E 4th Street, Suite A, in Santa Ana. RSVP to Sabrina.

Until next month, remember; life is a journey not a destination, so relax and enjoy the ride!

The first Tesla combined American ingenuity with British coachwork

By Mike Austin on Sep 8th, 2020 at 8:30 am

Category: Hemmings Find of the Day

Make: Tesla

Model: Roadster

Any opinion on Tesla is, well, complicated. But the company's first car was decidedly more straightforward. Before the Model S, assembly lines in a tent, or the Cybertruck, Tesla's first car was based on the Lotus Elise. By taking the bones of the British Roadster and converting it to electric drive, Tesla could prove the feasibility of a long-range EV, without the added complexity of engineering an entire car. And the Elise served as an excellent starting point, with a feathery curb weight (under 2,000 pounds in gas-powered form) and excellent ride and handling characteristics. It was such a good idea that Dodge even floated a similar idea with the Circuit EV concept car in 2009.

As with its current models, Tesla made several running improvements to the Roadster over its four-year, 2,500-unit production run. The 2010 Tesla Roadster for sale on Hemmings.com, our latest Find of the Day, has an updated interior compared to earlier Roadsters, with a small digital screen that delivers real-time charge and range data. According to the listing, this example is one of collector John McMullen's cars, and he is cutting back on his fleet. With only 1,019 miles on the Tesla's odometer, it's clear he had too many other options to get this car out on the road.

And, come to think of it, the Tesla Roadster is a 21st-century variation on a recurring theme in classic cars: British Coachwork juiced up with American power. Only instead of a V-8, it's an electric motor and lithium-ion battery packs. Does this future- (or arguably already-) collectible get you charged up, would you rather have one of the other Teslas for sale in the Hemmings Classifieds, or does this make you go back to the source and want to browse Lotus cars on the market?
